Hardesty Target Of Verbal Brickbats

Bouquets in the shape of verbal brickbats were presented to County Supt. of School Hardesty, at the County School Board meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

Present at the meeting were proponents and opponents of the present unification controversy.

The concensus of the opponents was that Hardesty is largely responsible for the present mess and voiced these opinions in no uncertain terms.

Those present favoring unification presented a very weak case, and Quicksall, the only member of the County School who displayed any back bone whatever, stated that a condition like this might happen in Russia but had no place in America.

Reviewing the case during a ten minute recess, Quicksall, stated that when American taxpayers were denied the right to vote on the disposal of their own property, it was unethical, immoral, unprincipled, and in short, a down right steal worthy of the best Russian tradition.

Asked by those present to make a statement to the public clarifying their position, the Board with the sole exception of Quicksall, avoided everything but vague generalities, but did do a good dumb twiddling job.

Freeman, of the Grossmont School Board, presented facts and correspondence showing that legal opinions on the matter differed between the County Attorney and State Attorney General. The proponent's side of the matter was presented by Clay Stewart, Jessup and a lady whose name our reporters did not catch. This lady stated that this matter of unification was nothing new, and named some districts that had accomplished this. When asked by Quicksall if the cases she cited included taking away property also he answered in the negative, whereupon Quicksall made her admit that the present case is without precedent.

McMahan, of the McMahan Furniture Co., an El Cajon resident, followed with the statement that he felt as a taxpayer he should have some voice in what is to be done with his equity as a taxpayer in the Grossmont School District.

More thumb twiddling on the part of the Board with Chairman Campbell stating that it was not up to the Board to pass on the merits or demerits of the case, and that it had no jurisdiction in the matter. Hart Dunham of the Lakeside School Board, who followed after Stewart, made this statement, "I have no respect whatever for Hardesty, and I feel he led these people into this unification move without making any effort to obtain legal light on the matter.

Hans Kern of the Alpine School Board asked what the rush was in trying to railroad this unification deal down the elector's throat. He was followed by Dr. Chas. Brown of Lemon Grove, Dr. Mercer of Alpine, Don Leiffer of La Mesa, who represented the Parents Taxpayers Association, all opposed to unification.

Among pertinent questions, the Board was asked, how far can Hardesty go without consulting the Board.

Three things were apparent at this meeting, one is that La Mesa, Lemon Grove, and Spring Valley are far from being 100% for unification; Two: that Supt. of Schools, Hardesty, would have a rough time winning a popularity contest, and third, this unification issued is the epitome of confusion.

Summing the matter up our reporter is convinced that Hardesty is in for considerable attention from now on.

Public Hearing Allays Community Fears On Sewage Disposal

On Monday, November 24th, members of the San Diego County Water Pollution Board met at the Lakeside Education Center with the Lakeside Board of Trustees and other interested citizens, to consider ways and means of solving the sewage disposal problem at the Lakeside School.

Background information for the discussion was supplied by the school Architect, Mr. Sam W. Hamill, and the District Superintendent Mr. E. M. Walker, who explained that, because of past difficulties with sewage disposal, before the present building program was planned the San Diego Testing Laboratories were employed to make tests on the site to determine whether or not adequate on-site provision could be made for sewage disposal. The results of these tests were subsequently supplied to the County Health Department and the School District was advised by this group that conditions were satisfactory, and the present system was designed and installed. In the meantime, however, grading operations made necessary to level the site completely changed the character of the soil covering the drainage field area, and when the system was placed in operation, it proved inadequate to completely dispose of the sewage produced by the increased school plant.

OFF-SITE PLAN CONSIDERED

As a possible solution, the Water Pollution Board was asked to consider the feasibility of allowing the School District to dispose of its sewage in the river sand adjacent to the School on the north on property owned by the City of San Diego. Members of the Pollution Board pointed out that while this method could be used without presenting any health problem provided the effluent was properly prepared by chlorination and filtering, it would be expensive, and would require considerable time because of the number of public agencies involved, and the number of approvals required. The Pollution Board, therefore, recommended that the School District further explore the possibility of finding an on-site solution to its problem by enlarging its present system before proceeding further with the proposed off-site disposal plan. In the meantime, the Pollution Board agreed to continue to keep the off-site plan under advisement so that steps to place this alternative in effect could be taken if and when it became necessary.

PLANS FOR ENLARGEMENT OF EXISTING FIELD TENTATIVELY ADOPTED

It was also pointed out at the hearing that the school district has several acres of unused land immediately adjacent to the existing drainage field, and that the County Health Department has no objection to extending our existing lines into this area. While enlarging the existing field in this way may not be as permanent a solution as the proposed off-site plan, it was agreed that it would probably handle our needs for some years to come, and the school architect was instructed to proceed immediately with the necessary tests preliminary to installing the additional lines. Since there are existing State Funds available in the project to take care of this work, it will present no additional financial problem, it was stated.

EXISTING TOILET FACILITIES ADEQUATE

Discussion subsequent to the meeting disclosed that a story to the effect that it had been necessary to shut down toilet facilities at the Lakeside School was apparently being circulated. This, it was pointed out by the District Superintendent, was untrue. While several of the flushometer valves in the old section of the plant have worn out due to age and have been temporarily disconnected pending the delivery of parts which are now on order, the new toilet rooms which are in use make available more than adequate facilities for the students now using the school. Likewise mistaken is the story current in some quarters, that school shower and locker facilities cannot be used because of the drainage problem, Mr. Walker stated. The fact of the matter is that these facilities cannot be used because they have not been completed and will not be turned over to the District by the contractor for some time to come.

Weston Herd Show High Test

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — With 589 pounds of butterfat and 13216 pounds of milk, testing 4.5%, to her credit, Westlake Bonheur Alma Femco, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by C. L. Weston, Lakeside, California, has completed a 365-day production test in official Advanced Registry.

She was milked 3 times daily and was 2 years 4 months of age when she began her testing period.

Her record averages approximately 17 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Testing was supervised by the University of California in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

C. of C. Election December 8th

The annual election of officers for the Chamber of Commerce will be held at their monthly meeting December 8.

Members nominated for the following offices are: For president, Dick Murray; vice pres., Bob Watkins; secy., Mildred Langlois. Also to be elected are four directors.

The meeting will be held at the Kiwanis Hall with the dinner in charge of Bob and Marge Watkins, who performed such an outstanding job last month.

Guest speaker is the Rev. Theodoric Roberts, who will use as his topic "The History and Meaning of Christmas." Time, 7 p. m.

Induction Ceremony

A candlelight induction ceremony was conducted for five boys from the Lakeside Jr. Hi-Y Club Friday, Nov. 28, which is under the leadership of Charles M. Lucas.

The boys inducted were Tommy Claycomb, Ernie Hance, Dale Barcia, Jerry Crews and Ken Humphries.

After the induction hot dogs and apple cider were served, also plans were made for election of officers to complete the school year and program activities such as special trips, a Jr. Hi-Y basketball tournament, speakers, and service projects.

The Lakeside Jr. Hi-Y Club meets once a week and is sponsored by the San Diego County YMCA, a Red Feather Agency.

Post Office Improves Service

Another pick-up was added to the regular routine of our local Post Office beginning last Monday. The third pick up is at 7 p. m. with Jim Peters handling the mail. This added pick up will give Lakeside much better service and will enable those who drop their mail in the box after 3:30 p. m. to have their mail picked up at 7:00 p. m. Heretofore when mail was dropped after 3:30 it was not sent out before 8:30 a. m. the following morning. The schedule now is as follows:

Out going mail should be dropped by the following hours: 8:15 a. m., 3:15 p. m., 6:30 p. m.

Post Office hours will remain the same as always, 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturdays to 12:00 noon. No Sunday pick ups.

To avoid crowded conditions on Saturday citizens are asked to do their mailing earlier in the week. No service should be expected after the post office closes.

Floyd Martin Has Been Appointed Director

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the El Cajon Valley Band, Floyd Martin was appointed to serve as a Board member.

Mr. Martin plays E-flat horn in the band and has a background of old time circus tours to his credit.

His faithful attendance, devotion and untiring work in the best interest of the band and community serves as a worthy example for our younger generation to follow.

A woman's suffrage law was passed in the territory of Wyoming, Dec. 10, 1869.

New Baby Shop Opens In Fletcher Hills Today

A new addition to the Fletcher Hills business district is the new baby shop opening today at 405 W. Broadway.

The owners, Mrs. Eleanor Stevens and Mrs. Nita Carson, state that everything a baby needs will be found at their new store.

The Erie Canal was opened in 1825.

Women's Fellowship To Meet Friday

The regular meeting date of the Women's Fellowship was postponed from Wednesday to Friday, Dec. 5. Election and installation of newly elected officers will be held. Mrs. Lenora Van Sickle will be in charge of the program.

Members of the Missionary Circle will serve refreshments.

Officers and members of the Board attended a work shop meeting in La Jolla Wednesday. The speaker, who was a returned missionary from India, was enjoyed by all who heard her.

Citizens Advisory Committee

A study of report cards and testing devices which are used in the Lakeside School District were the main topic of interest at the meeting of the Citizens Advisory Committee Monday evening.

A report and suggestions for improvement, if any, will be made at the next meeting to be held January 26 in the Education Center.

Good Hunting In South Land

Results of the opening week of pheasant hunting in the Southland ranged from fair to good, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California announced today.

Areas producing the best results were: Imperial Valley, Buena Vista Lake district, Lancaster, Perris and the area from Independence to Bishop.

QUAIL HUNTING GENERALLY GOOD

Quail hunters found the shooting generally good in several local areas during the first days of the season, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California said today.

Best results were achieved by nimrods hunting the following areas: Kelso Valley, Jawbone Canyon, Coachella Valley, Blythe, Imperial Valley and the areas around Hemet, Mojave, Taft and Porterville.

DUCKS MOVE INTO SOUTHLAND

An influx of northern ducks has developed as anticipated, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California reported today.

The hunting situation is improving and it is believed that nimrods will have better luck finding birds this weekend than any time since the opening of the season.

SKIABLE SNOW AREAS LISTED

The best skiable snow available to local winter sports enthusiasts for the weekend is at Big Bear, Snow Valley and Green Valley Lake, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California said today.

Milk Goat Ass'n. To Hold Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Southern California Milk Goat Association will be held on December 7 in Library Hall, El Cajon.

Guest speaker is Rev. Roy D. Brokenshire of Carlsbad who will show his film "Saga of the Sea-Going Goats."

Having improved he was allowed to return home where he will be cared for by his wife Marguerite. Sincere best wishes go to Ned for a complete recovery.

New Radio and TV Repair Opens

A new repair and service business will open in Lakeside Monday at 699 Julian Ave. Mr. De La Hunt, a retired naval officer who was formerly associated with an electronic laboratory in San Diego wishes to announce the opening of his repair shop. It is fully equipped, and he will give expert and efficient service. Phone H4-1068 if you are having TV or radio trouble, and give him a trial.

Mr. and Mrs. De La Hunt are living at this same address and own their own home.

Win 2nd Place In Sweepstakes

Martha McDonald, Grossmont High School senior, marched to victory in a driving rain Saturday evening in the Long Beach Band Review. Chosen All Western Band Majorette, Martha helped the Blue and Gold Band receive second in sweepstakes, one fifth of a point behind the Helix Highlanders who marched before the rain began. Grossmont has won sweepstakes twice and next time gets to keep the trophy.

Sacrificing their shoes and ties, the 66 Grossmont Band members marched in spite of the fact that several bands ahead of them disbanded, the cars were turned loose in the parade area, and klieg lights were turned off on the judges' stand. Playing King Cotton, the band turned rain out of the horns and kept balance well enough to be judged second in its division and second in the sweepstakes competition.

Mrs. Martha Huckle, in charge of letter girls and flag girls, accompanied the band on the trip. Harold G. Lutz, director, was in charge. The parade began at 6:30 p. m. and Grossmont marched at 9:00 p. m. Just a short time before 9:00 p. m., the rains came.

The Band Review is sponsored annually by the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce. There are 26 judges.

Harold Lutz says, "I guess we couldn't beat the rain. We're always near the top, and next year we'll be in there trying."

Farm Bureau Shows Growth

Tripling its membership in the last 12 years, the California Farm Bureau Federation closed its fiscal year October 31 with 64,559 farm family members, final figures disclosed today, according to membership chairman Everett Parsons of El Cajon.

This brings the California Farm Bureau group to sixth place in size in the nation, Parsons said, being exceeded only by Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, New York and Minnesota.

In 1940 the California Farm Bureau Federation had but 21,000 members, Parsons stated, pointing out that it has shown a steady growth each year since until it is now well up on the list of the "Big Ten" in the American Farm Bureau Federation. The national organization now numbers more than a million and a half members in the 48 states and Puerto Rico.

Plans for Youth Center Near Completion

At a meeting held Tuesday evening in the Education Center further plans were discussed and completed on the Youth Center for Lakeside.

The Kiwanis Hall has definitely been arranged for, and the Center will be under the supervision of John Westrick who will act as director.

The Center will be opened soon after the holidays with hours tentatively set for Fridays from 3:30 to 9:45 p. m., Saturdays from 3:00 to 9:45 p. m.

The young people of this community will be invited to use the Center for entertainment and for a study room to do their homework if they desire.

There will be table games, ping pong tables, coke machine and it is hoped the equipment will include a juke box.

Another committee meeting will take place January 6 to complete final arrangements.

Rabies Been Found Among Roaming Dogs

A coyote carrying rabies was shot by Jack McLean, of the Paradise Chinchilla last week.

Some time previous McLean had shot another coyote that he saw biting dogs.

What aroused his suspicions on shooting the second coyote was the fact that the animal was chewing twigs and grass.

He notified officials who made a laboratory test of the animal's head and the result was positive rabies.

With the thousands of roaming dogs in the area it will be well to take no chances.

FARM BUREAU TO DISCUSS SANITATION PROBLEMS

The Lakeside Farm Bureau will hear James Slater, sanitary engineer of the San Diego County Health Department discuss Lakeside's sanitation problems at the Bureau's monthly meeting December 4 at the Memorial Hall.

Dec. 10 County Tax Deadline

Next Wednesday, Dec. 10, is the delinquency date for the first installment of San Diego County real property taxes, and after that date a 6% penalty must be added to first installment of taxes remaining unpaid.

If any property owner has not received his real estate tax bill, he should get in touch with the County Tax Collector's office immediately by telephone (Franklin 9-6061, Local 441), letter, or coming personally to the office at 110 Civic Center, San Diego. All bills carrying addresses have been mailed, and it is the property owner's responsibility to see that he gets a bill in time for payment without penalty. If taxes on property are not paid before the delinquency date, the State's lien attaches as provided by law regardless of whether the taxpayer received his bill and did not pay, or did not try to obtain his bill at the Tax Collector's office.

Particular attention is called to the fact that mailed payments must show postmark at point of origin no later than 5:00 p. m., of December 10 to avoid penalty.

It is, therefore, recommended that mailed tax remittance be deposited in post offices not later than December 8, to insure the envelopes being postmarked not later than 5:00 o'clock, p. m., December 10. This is the same hour as is observed at the Tax Collector's office for those paying at Teller's windows.

Kiwanis Minstrel Show Set For Curtain Time

The Kiwanis Main Street's Minstrel Show is all set for curtain time Friday evening, at 8:13 p. m. at Memorial Building in Lakeside.

There is talent galore from way down south accent to light opera. The performers are made up of Lakeside, El Cajon, Bostonia and San Diego talent. Monte Hall will act as interlocutor. Tom Barkdull, Jerry Hamman, Mel Kemp, A. J. Crouch and Carroll Kemp make up the minstrel circle.

Louise Wolfe, who with her husband own the Broadway Bakery in El Cajon, is another professional on the show and will impersonate stars of yester-year. Jerry Hamman has been doing minstrel shows ever since his college days and he carries you into the deep south when he sings Lindy Lou.

Barkdull, Crouch and the Kemps are all experienced minstrel men. Enola Smith who will thrill the audience with her superb voice was with the Starlight Opera a season.

The Song Shiners Quartet with Bart Moser from San Diego will sing some real barbershop harmony.

A Crosley T. V. set and other valuable door prizes will be given away on the stage. For more information about the show and how to obtain free tickets turn to pages 10 and 11.

SANTEE POSTOFFICE OPEN TILL 6 P. M.

To take care of the holiday rush the Santee Postoffice will remain open till 6 p. m. beginning December 8 and continuing until Christmas. The rush of extra work has already started, Postmaster Gilbert stated.

Blood Donors Needed At Elks Hall Friday

Blood is more badly needed than ever before and all who are able should be at the Elk's Hall, December 5.

The Bloodmobile will be stationed there on that date. All who plan to donate a pint of blood are asked to refrain from eating for four hours before donating.

Lakeside which has now reached the stage where sanitation is in some sections becoming an acute problem finds itself divided on the way the matter should be handled.

The local business section where the problem is most acute, a sewerage district appears to be the only answer whereas in the residential districts such as Winter Gardens, Lakeside Farms and Eucalyptus Hills the present type of sewerage disposal by means of septic tanks is adequate and will be so for as long as the lot on which the home is situated is large enough to furnish adequate length of drain lines. The problem today is planning for the future when the larger homesites are cut up and homes are closer together. How soon in the future this will come to pass is any one's guess but should Lakeside's present growth continue and there is no reason to think it won't the sewerage problems should be studied now.

What Pres. Dunham wishes aired and brought to light at this meeting is where is your sewerage flowing? Where is your neighbor's sewerage flowing and if something must be done about the matter now, how much will it cost and who pays for it?

In addition Slater will give an outline of various types of districts such as utility, fire and memorial. Opinions from those present will be asked to determine what course the bureau should pursue. In addition a discussion will be held on the matter of the Lakeside School public hearing on the matter of drain lines in the school disposal plant. (Ed. note: Another article on this matter appears on this page).

The meeting will feature potluck and a surprise movie.

Pres. Dunham stated that this meeting concerns all Lakesiders and he would appreciate opinions at the meeting from all present whether Farm Bureau member or not.

New Parcel Post Station To Open

Through the courtesy of Forace Boyd, the Lakeside Post Office has secured the Playmore Club to be used as a Parcel Post Station during the Christmas season. Postmaster Winston Oaks announces that the new office will be open next Monday, Dec. 8. The location is on Maine St., next to Huffman's Dept. Store.

Cooperation Asked In Reducing Traffic Deaths

SACRAMENTO — The California Highway Patrol today asked the public's help in a December drive to "actually reduce traffic deaths, not just talk about it."

Patrol Commissioner Clifford E. Peterson said he hoped any public indifference to the traffic toll would be lessened during the holiday season.

"People seem to be more responsive to humanitarian and sentimental appeals this time of year," he said, "and that's what we're banking on."

Peterson declared the Patrol would do its part in the life-saving program by staging traffic checks, handing out safety literature and stepping up enforcement activity.

Last December 322 persons died in traffic accidents throughout the state.

"Just a single life saved this year will be worth any extra effort," Peterson said, adding that the toll could be materially reduced if every motorist and pedestrian would accept personal responsibility for his or her own safety.

As a positive step for drivers to take, Peterson suggested that they tighten up on their driving habits and obey all traffic laws.

Bring Government Back Home, Asks Southern Californian

"Southern California people will help bring government back home in 1953 by learning how much federal centralized power is costing their standards of living — $63 per month in taxes for an average income of $300."

So said Tony Whan, president, Southern California Businessmen's Association, today after studying a survey of the economic research council of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Southern California people suffer a burden of $10,379,609,000 as their share of the federal debt, in addition to the present direct and concealed federal taxes taking about one-fourth their income, averaging all groups," the survey detailed.

"Nearly 80% of locally raised taxes go to the Federal Government — and how little returns to the home area is suggested by the fact that of the $5,232,0000,000 in taxes taken out of California, only $184,0000,0000 comes back as grants-in-aid for economics and social welfare."

In disclosing the figures of the NAM, Mr. Whan said:

"It is distressingly clear that as the Federal Government takes more and more of our locally created income and imposes higher taxes and debts, several tragic things are happening.

"Individually we lose our financial strength to plan our own future and that of our families.

"We also lose personal liberties and freedom, as the Federal Government imposes regimentation in the guise of necessity of controlling the very inflation it causes by wasteful spending and taxing.

"Local Government, too, suffers loss of initiative since the NAM economic report shows that nearly 80% of locally created revenues are absorbed by the Federal Government, leaving less and less for such essential local services as education and police and fire protection. An index to the terrible growth of Federal statism are such facts that 45.7% of California land belongs to the Federal Government, that there are 189,411 more Federal employes in California than there are State employes!

"Unless drastic action is taken against further threats of inflation by the present administration of the Federal Government, we shall be throwing gasoline on the fires. A way to avoid this is to find ways to perform more government services closer to home, the state and county.

"The current NAM report urges that a $265,000,000,000 firm ceiling be placed on the Federal public debt, a cut of $10,000,000,000 from the present $275,000,000,000 legal limit.

"Southern California citizens, like all Americans, have a personal stake in the fight against inflation.

"When a $265,000,000,000 debt limit is established, our Federal Government can then proceed with a sound debt management program, and then plan a stricter limitation on Federal spending itself.

"We should all urge our representatives in Congress to set a firm limit on the public debt, and to curtail expenditures not strictly in the public interest, and, in addition to economics, the way to do this is to bring government back home, perform more service at the state, county and city government level."

Public education costs in the United States have increased from $15 per capita in 1870 to the present rate of almost $190 per year.

WOMEN MAKE GOOD REALTORS

About 30,000 women engaged in the real estate profession have added a new twist to an old adage: Woman's place is in the home — selling it, according to an article in the December issue of Lifetime Living magazine.

"Women Make Good Realtors" is the title of the feature piece by Edwin L. Stoll, Assistant Director of Public Relations of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. The magazine is now on sale at most major newsstands throughout the country.

Most of these 30,000 are saleswomen, but 4,000 of them are Realtors, the article points out. Many of them head their own firms and employ men. Some have become recognized builders, with many homes and subdivisions as evidence of their enterprise.

"Women are 'naturals' in the role of home-selling," says Mrs. Isabel T. Mitchell of Compton, Calif., 1952 president of the Women's Council of NAREB. "In a day when much is heard of 'social security,' I feel that the best and only real security any woman can have is the confident independence of the knowledge that, come what may, she has within herself the ability to succeed in a profession tailored to her inherent abilities and from which she need never be forced to retire."

Most women possess the first requisite for a successful career in real estate — a vital interest in house and home, Mr. Stoll says in the article. Here's where they often have an advantage over men. Miss Agnes Coleman, a Newark, N. J., Realtor, points out, "Most homes are chosen by women, and who could be as sympathetic to her needs and problems as another woman?"

The real estate profession is broader and more complex than is commonly realized, Mr. Stoll says in the article. "It involves more than finding buyers or tenants for people who own property. It includes creative planning and creative enterprise.

"Large old homes, for example, that once housed wealthy families of the community are landmarks in many cities. These are the problem structures whose run-down appearance too often blends right in with the rest of a blighted area around them. Is there any creative way to use these white elephants and keep slums from growing up around them?

"Yes, indeed, says Miss Coleman, who during the last 10 years has planned the conversion of many of these structures in Newark into combined professional and residential units for physicians. Her contribution proves that a Realtor with originality can benefit not only herself but her community.

"Real estate work also includes appraisal of the value of real property of all kinds," Mr. Stoll adds in the Lifetime Living article. "It means the skilled management of apartment houses, office buildings, and other types of real property. Lending money on real estate mortgages is another important branch of the work. And the development of completely new urban and suburban areas is one of the most spectacular phases."

He cites the experience of Mrs. Laura Hale Gorton, Glastonbury, Conn., Realtor. When, after 20 years, she handed over the reins of her business to her nephew, she could look with deep satisfaction on hundreds of homes, miles of streets winding through the hills, and a booming shopping center as a monument to her vision and courage.

Despite the complexity of the real estate profession, Mr. Stoll points out, a beginner will find plenty of opportunity to master the fine points. Most brokers give their salesmen instruction. Then, too, there are courses offered by universities, colleges, and technical schools ,as well as practical training developed directly by real estate's own professional groups — the National Association of Real Estate Boards, its various specialized institutes, and its 1,100 local member boards.

Today 151 universities and colleges offer courses in real estate, 14 of them by correspondence. Lecture courses for beginners in real estate are given one or more times a year by the real estate boards in some of the principal cities. They cover the basic subjects of real estate law, real estate transfers, brokerage operations, appraisals, and real estate financing.

Licensing as a real estate salesman or broker is now required by 37 states the District of Columbia, and Hawaii. In some cases, the candidate must pass a competency test.

My Home of Tomorrow

By F. C. DIEDERICKS
Home Planning Editor

As can be seen in the pictures this plan combines a garage and terrace in the most inexpensive and practical method possible and by so doing achieves a most convenient and attractive house. The overall square footage of the house including the garage service area but not the actual garage or terrace is 960 feet. The roof is all in one and covers all the areas of the house thus giving the builder a most completely self contained unit.

LIVING ROOM

This room is quite large and considering the fact that the house itself is under 1000 square feet in area it contains ample footage and many extra features not ordinarily found in the smaller homes. The fireplace construction should be of stone and form almost all of the left wall of the room with built in shelving and a carry-through of chimney stone as a veneer on the outside of the building. You will notice that the fireplace has two openings, one in the living room and one in the main bedroom. The second fireplace is optional, of course, but would not be too expensive as the same chimney could be used. A simple but effective bay-window is used on the front wall.

DINING ROOM

French doors open out of this room onto the Terrace providing an excellent outdoor dining area and private patio. Between the living room and the dining room is the entry way to the garage-service area. A wide archway connects the two rooms which gives the appearance of much more open space.

KITCHEN

The kitchen is compact and convenient. A long counter of tile or any other suitable material offers ample work area. There is also a rear door provided and since the service area is in the garage there are no laundry tubs, etc., to make room for in this section of the house. A large broom-storage closet is also provided.

BEDROOMS

A very short hall connects the bedrooms to either the living room or the kitchen. In this hall the centrally located wall or floor furnace is placed and also a very large linen storage closet. Both bedrooms feature long wardrobes with sliding doors. The front bedroom features a fireplace and also space for building in a dressing table next to the fireplace.

APPEARANCE

With all the features required placed under one roof the house takes on the appearance of greater length and size. The main roof is hipped and an extension of the eave at the front provides a porch like cover for the front door and acts also as a roof for the bay windows. Wood siding is used around the living room at the front and combined with this to add the extra richness to the design is the massive stone chimney and the stone veneer on both sides of the front house projections.

PLANS AVAILABLE

Building blue prints of this house, No. 560, including floor plans and elevations, are available at $7.50 for the first set, and $6.25 for each additional set, when ordered through this newspaper.

Ralston Purina Co. To Continue Fellowship Awards Program

The Ralston Purina Company will continue their Research Fellowship Awards Program for the 1953-54 school year. The purpose of the Fellowship Awards is to help train leaders who are needed in the scientific fields of livestock and poultry production. An outline of the Program, including rules governing the awards, is attached.

The program will continue to be handled by the Committee of five — one member each from the Poultry Science Association, American Veterinary Medical Association, American Dairy Science Association, American Society of Animal Production and the Association of Land Grant Colleges.

Those who have finished their graduate work with the aid of a Purina Fellowship Award are now in positions of leadership in the research field, making real contributions to a greater agriculture.

Informers collected $500,000 in rewards in 1951 for putting Internal Revenue agents on the trail of $9,700,000 in unpaid taxes, according to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Prime commercial fish of the United States is the menhaden, used mainly for fertilizer. This fish, the supply of which appears inexhaustible, is also called bughead, bugfish, oldwife, alewife, greentail, and chebog.

According to the species, the wingspread of the condor may reach 11 feet.

DO IT YOURSELF

DOVER, OHIO — You can remodel your kitchen, bathroom, or utility room in a few hours with new plastic-finished wall and ceiling panels. The easy-to-handle panels cover a big area in a hurry and are quickly installed with ordinary carpenters' tools.

Developed by Marsh Wall Products, Inc., the new product known as Marlite, features an exclusive high-heat-baked finish that is resistant to moisture, grease, ordinary acids and alkalies, cigarette burns, and scuffing. Installation of these versatile panels eliminates all future painting, plastering, and redecorating. Easily cleaned with a damp cloth, Marlite available in 67 striking colors and patterns, makes housekeeping far easier.

Step-by-step installation folders are available from the company or at leading lumber and building material dealers everywhere. Thousands of thrifty homeowners are finding these beautiful prefinished wall panels the answer to economical remodeling with lifetime beauty and serviceability.

Before Detroit became known as the "Motor City," Jackson, Mich., had 19 automobile factories, producing 19 different makes of cars.

BOSTONIA BRIEFS . . .

By Toy Musgrave

A miscellaneous wedding shower will be given for Miss Lillian Hudson and Ray Cremens, at the Fellowship Hall of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, 1450 Peach Avenue Friday evening, Dec. 12, at 7:30 p. m. Miss Hudson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hudson, 401 S. Avocado Avenue, and Mr. Cremens, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Cremens, Rt 1, Box 6, Lakeside, will be married December 19, at the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Miss Hudson is a senior at Grossmont.

Cub Scout Pack 152 will hold their monthly pack meeting Friday evening, Dec. 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the Bostonia School Cafeteria. The theme for the meeting will be "An Old Fashioned Christmas." During candlelight ceremonies conducted by the Cubmaster, Mr. Sam Spade, Hugh Kimbal, who has earned his Webelos Badge, will graduate into the Boy Scouts. Since the last candlelight ceremony, four boys who earned Lion Badges have passed their eleventh birthdays and also will graduate. They are Jerry Freeland, John Musgrave, Richard McLeoud, and Danny Brent. All the Cubs in Pack 152 are repairing toys or making new toys with jig saws to give to less fortunate youngsters at Christmas. The boys in each Den are making presents for their parents for the holidays, and are making decorations for the Christmas tree. Their Christmas Party will be December 19.

Parsonage guests of the Reverend and Mrs. E. V. Perkins the past week have been the Rev. and Mrs. D. Wilson and family of Lakeside, the Rev. and Mrs. Sherwood Eddy and family of Whittier, and the Rev. and Mrs. DePew and family of Los Angeles.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Musgrave were Mrs. Musgrave's sister and niece, Mrs. Robert E. Patnaude Jr and Nancy, of Rancho Santa Fe.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Thornton and Mary, were Thanksgiving dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Keener, at 1310 Naranca.

Messrs. and Mmes. Homer Moore, Warren Boysen, Charles Hebert, Gorden Scharfenberg, Robert Schexmayder, Alex Kwiatt, and Kenneth Eckert were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Issacsen, Saturday evening for a buffet supper and canasta party.

The Church bus will leave the Wesleyan Methodist Church at 6:45 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 6, to take the youngsters to the Youth For Christ rally in San Diego. There will be a Dutch Treat at the "Jack In The Box."

Jack E. Roesch, UMC, son of Mrs. Mearl Webb, 834 North Second St. is now attending a special school in Washington, D. C. Upon completing the schooling he will be assigned a diplomatic position. He formerly was stationed at Portsmouth, Va.

The Bostonia Jr. Women's Club is planning a Christmas Carol sing, and an exchange of gifts for their December meeting Wednesday evening, at 7:30 p. m. in the Girl Scout House. Mrs. Robert Young is in charge of the program. Other hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Alma Stewart, Mrs. Maurice Musgrave, and Mrs. J. I. Howland. The group's third class of beginning and "brush-up" Square dancing will be Thursday evening, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. at the Grossmont Girls' Gym. The class is still open, with Mr. Franklin Toynton calling. Donations of 50c per person are asked, as the project is a Ways and Means to finance philanthropic work the club wishes to accomplish. Anyone interested in attending the classes, please call Mrs. J. I. Howland at H4-8632 for more information.

Mr. David Sloan who is retiring from the position he has held as Superintendent of Edgemoor Farm for over seven years will be the guest of honor at a reception given by the employees of the Farm Friday evening, Nov. 28. During this period of service in Santee the guest population has tripled, and the employee personnel doubled, the new hospital and dining room and kitchen have been built and the old buildings remodeled. All the while these improving changes have been made, Mr. Sloan has continued to officiate in his gentle and understanding manner, thus earning the love and affection of all who have worked with him and been under his care.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Madole and their two small daughters, Jequita and Juanice, have returned from their vacation trip to Oregon, and are now making plans to move to their new home in Chula Vista.

Patty Zoffka, Lorna, Marie and Helen Kirkseter, Celia Alexander, and George Taylor, of the Junior MYF, composed the committee which made 125 Thanksgiving tray favors for the patients at Edgemoor Farm last Monday. The Councilor for the group is Mrs. John Kirkseter.

Tickets for a Spaghetti Dinner on Saturday evening, Dec. 13, are on sale by members of the senior MYF of the Santee Methodist Church. Proceeds will be used to send the councilors to the Mid winter Retreat at Camp Cedar Glen, the last of December.

The Santee Community Chest movement is chairmanned by Cecil Morgan, well known sportsman, and owner of the Santee Hardware. He and his committee are endeavoring to cover all parts of Santee in this year's canvas, and still will accept a few more volunteer workers to help in the campaign.

Floyd Swanson, who has headed the Edgemoor Farm group, reports that his workers have taken in over $250 to date.

Mr. Ed Monti, well known Realtor, is now recuperating from his recent illness in the Foothill Sanitarium, at 109 East Chase, El Cajon. Cards and letters addressed to that address will be gratefully received as will visitors.

A Thanksgiving Service and Prayer meeting was held last night at the Community Church. Today all the churches are cooperating in a valley wide service in the new Church of God in El Cajon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith and young son are enjoying a trip in their new Plymouth station wagon. They are visiting friends and relatives in Utah and Colorado.

Last Wednesday evening the Santee Teachers Association were the hosts to the Board of Trustees at a sumptious turkey dinner served in the school's new Cafetorium. Gordon Silbaugh, the newly elected president of the association, introduced those present, and the social hour closed with singing led by Miss Esther Weitsman.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Northcote celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary.

The third group of second graders from the Rolando School made a tour of the Northcote Dairy Monday, and found out that the milk doesn't grow in the cardboard bottles. After a thorough inspection of all the modern facilities, each child was given a treat of ice cream.

The Santee Welfare Association is becoming well known in the neighborhood and has had the privilege of answering several calls for aid this fall. If anyone has a contribution or a request, please contact any of the committee through the Chairman, Floyd Swanson, at H4-3279.

The Shop is open each Saturday, 1 till 4.

Thanks go to all the people who helped with the Girl Scout entry in the Mother Goose Parade.

STAY OUT OF HEADLINES

DEATH BLAMED ON GAS HEATER IN APARTMENT

These are typical headlines which appear year after year.

Over two hundred persons die annually in California from carbon monoxide poisoning attributed to open flame unvented heaters. An open flame heater is also a fire hazard. Several deaths occur each year because someone in night clothes brushed too close to a heater.

These are the reasons behind the new amendment to the State Housing Act and the enforcement by the Building and Public Health Departments.

Owners of apartment houses, hotels, motels, auto courts, and dwellings anywhere in the State of California are required to:

- Remove all existing unvented gas heaters.
- Install only vented gas heaters.

Although private dwellings in unincorporated areas in the county are an exception, under the present State Housing Act, protection of your family's health demands vented gas heaters wherever you live.

A few precautions will keep you and your family out of the headlines.

Use only approved vented gas heaters that are properly connected by a qualified person.

If you suspect a vented gas heater is not working properly, call in a gas appliance expert.

Never leave a heater burning all night, unless it is one especially designed and installed for continuous burning.

Remember you can't see carbon monoxide gas . . . it has no vapor or color. You can't smell it . . . it has no odor . . . it can kill you.

Recording Angle

A "photo-finish" is one way of deciding a close-run race. In the Bureau of Records and Statistics, however, it is sure proof of the legibility of 2400 legal birth and death records.

Our photostat camera lens records what it sees — BUT, only in terms of black and white. It is wearing color filter "spectacles" these days in order to see and photograph the eerie-colored inks used by the public in making out birth and death records. Some of these multi-colored inks are so pale they are scarcely visible, others are as vivid as neon signs . . . none of them are suitable for photostating legal documents.

Section 1001 of the California Vital Statistics Law requires that: "All certificates of birth or of death shall be written legibly, in durable black ink." This also applies to typewritten records.

Fresh, well-inked BLACK typewriter ribbons, and BLACK OR BLUE-BLACK ink, produce records easily and quickly photostated.

Many Entries In Speech Tournament

Grossmont High School speech students will trek to the State College campus Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, December 4, 5, 6, to participate in the San Diego State College Invitational Speech Tournament.

Debaters will argue the N. F. L. question, RESOLVED: that Atlantic Pact Nations should form a Federal Union. They include Loren Acord, Ted Sieckman, Jeannie Pratt, David Leaverton, John Trumbull, David Groce, Jack McLean, Barbara Hood, Karen Liliblade, and Anne Cowhick.

Those who will compete in the poetry interpretation division are Barbara Hood with 'Lilacs," Maurice Montgomery with "Bagpipe Music," Delphi Alvig with "Ode To Confederate Dead," and Loren Acord with "Four Preludes on the Playthings on the Wind."

Entering the oratory division, Loren Acord will read Clarence Darrow's "Defense of Leopold and Loeb," in humorous declamation, Jeannie Pratt will do "Alice in Wonderland," Jack McLean will do "Hyman Kaplan," Diane Morgan will do "Kiss and Tell," and Carol Lish will do "Another Part of the Forest."

South Carolina seceded from the union, Dec. 20, 1860.

Can Ike Cut The Budget - And Your Taxes?

The great majority of voters expect the next President to make good on Republican promises to cut federal spending and reduce our taxes. What chances are there of this happening in 1953?

The major items of national security and fixed or continuing charges loom large in the budget. Beyond these, only items which make up less than 10 per cent of the estimated 1953 expenditures are subject to cuts in the next Congress.

The budget is so hedged in by prior commitments that only if the new President and the Congress are ready to make big slashes in defense programs can big budget cuts result.

In submitting the new budget President Truman has sought to leave the policy decisions up to General Eisenhower on the amount of defense spending, foreign economic aid and atomic development.

The General has sent his budget advisor, Joseph Dodge, to Washington. The Detroit Banker who put MacArthur's financial policies into effect in Japan will look over the budget now being prepared and advise the incoming President. Because the new Administration must live on the budget voted by its Congress, there is no way the Republicans can avoid taking full responsibility for the new budget.

Budget-making is no longer the simple matter it was when the Republican Party was last in power twenty years ago. In fiscal year 1932, government expenditures totalled $4.9 billions of which military outlays were only $800 millions. Today the new President inherits a budget totalling $79 billions of which major national security programs call for the expenditure of $58.2 billions. As he plans for fiscal 1954, it is this 1953 budget with which he must start and which he and his Congress must remold to become the embodiment of their policies.

On the receipts side, the incoming President and his Administration are up against difficult decisions. In fiscal 1932 the Hoover Administration collected $2 billions and ran a deficit of nearly $3 billions. General Eisenhower starts with receipts of $69 billions but a deficit of $10 billions. In 1932 nearly all of the budget was on a current authorization, appropriation and spending basis. Next year's budget has in fact been largely determined by obligations incurred through Congressional action in previous years. For example, half of the total amount of the 1953 budget authorizations will not be expended until 1954 or afterwards.

The Democratic 82nd Congress has authorized virtually the full amount needed to complete our mobilization effort. From here on out the problem is largely one of appropriating enough to maintain our defenses at a high enough level for safety.

Here are the facts: New obligational authority, with defense as the overwhelming item, declined from a peak of $93 billions in fiscal year 1952 to $79 billions in 1953; and the Secretary of Defense indicated earlier this year that a further reduction of $12 billions could be made in the next fiscal year.

These reductions in new authorizations to spend will show up in the budget the outgoing Democratic Administration offers the Congress. They make even more difficult President-elect Eisenhower's task of pruning the budget.

On the tax reduction question, expirations and changes in tax laws already on the books could result in a lowered tax bill of $8.5 billions during the next eighteen months. Excess profits, individual and corporate income and certain excise taxes would be affected.

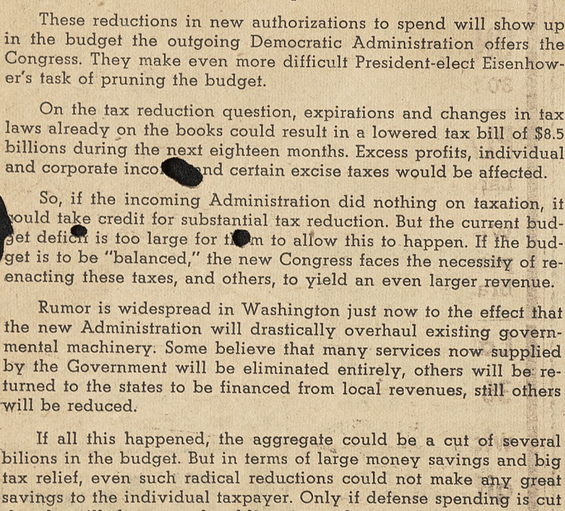
So, if the incoming Administration did nothing on taxation, it could take credit for substantial tax reduction. But the current budget deficit is too large for them to allow this to happen. If the budget is to be "balanced," the new Congress faces the necessity of re-enacting these taxes, and others, to yield an even larger revenue.

Rumor is widespread in Washington just now to the effect that the new Administration will drastically overhaul existing governmental machinery. Some believe that many services now supplied by the Government will be eliminated entirely, others will be returned to the states to be financed from local revenues, still others will be reduced.

If all this happened, the aggregate could be a cut of several bilions in the budget. But in terms of large money savings and big tax relief, even such radical reductions could not make any great savings to the individual taxpayer. Only if defense spending is cut sharply will the general public witness large-scaled reductions in government costs.

Summing up — from where we sit the outlook is for continued high levels of government expenditures during the first year of Republican Administration. Unless the "hatchet men" get in their licks.

CALVERT'S
Man of Distinction Fashions



LATEST STYLE for men this year is the new "natural look" featuring slimmer narrower lines, according to Calvert's Man of Distinction stylist. At left is a black and white nubby tweed topcoat with blue overplaid. Note the balmacaan collar, raglan shoulder and full-body cut that retains the casual note of the "natural look." Single-breasted suits like the worsted one at right have crowded the double-breasted suit out of the fashion picture. Tailored with natural shoulder line, patch pockets, and with three-button closing, this all-wool suit is right in line with the new trend.

TAFT'S PLANS FOR LABOR

During the recent campaign President-elect Eisenhower promised that, if elected, he would call a conference of industry and trade union representatives to consider changes in the Taft-Hartley Act.

Senator Robert A. Taft (R. Ohio), however, one of the co-authors of the original Taft-Hartley Act, has not waited for such a conference. As ranking minority member of the Senate Labor Committee he has had his own experts on the staff of the committee. At the Senator's direction they have been preparing changes in the Act.

So, while he was still in Cincinnati after the election, he passed the word on to his people to shape up these proposed changes. Taft will introduce them in the new Congress which opens January 13 and he will be chairman of the Senate Labor Committee which will first consider them.

At present Taft is preparing to propose eight changes. They are largely a re-hash of his 28 changes which passed the Senate in 1949 but were stopped in the House. The eight changes are:

1. Removal of the provision which denies a vote in National Labor Relations Board elections to strikers and gives them to workers who take their jobs. In speaking before the AFL convention Eisenhower agreed with union leaders that this was a "union busting" provision. Taft calls this an imaginary fear but is willing to go along with the change.

2. Strengthen the section outlawing secondary boycotts. Taft says there are inequities and loopholes.

3. Require employers, as well as union officials, to sign the non-Communist affidavit. Eisenhower had advocated this change.

4. Redefine the term "foreman" so that only those who actually perform management duties are excluded from the collective bargaining unit.

5. Revise the section dealing with union welfare funds so that the Secretary of Labor will have greater powers of "proper supervision."

6. Clarify the relations between the NLRB and the general counsel of the Board. This could have hidden meaning, such as a complete reorganization of the NLRB and its procedures.

7. Retain the penalties against unions or employers which strike or lockout during the 80-day waiting period but remove penalties to individuals.

8. Speed up procedures by the NLRB in hearing and deciding cases.

From a union standpoint, some of the changes are favorable while others are decidedly not. Several have hazy meanings and only the exact wording of the proposed change will show what is intended. The proposed changes do not, in themselves, come up to the greatest fears of many union leaders. No one is sure what else is to come.

One of the greatest fears held by union officials is that the combination of Southern Dixicrats and Republicans will seek to outlaw industry-wide or nation-wide collective bargaining. It would mean that bargaining would be limited to single companies and single local unions or, more generously, be limited by regions. It would seriously weaken the strength of the unions across the bargaining tables.

So far as can be learned here in Washington, Taft is not including such a change in his present plans. He does expect heavy pressure to be exerted by the National Association of Manufacturers and others for enactment, however. "A number of industrial organizations are going to have such bills introduced," he said. Hearings will be held on them if they come.

The present position of the Ohio Senator was recently summed up by him as follows:

"If nation-wide strikes cannot be dealt with any other way we might have to consider a limitation of nation-wide bargaining to prevent monopoly in labor as well as industry. But, I have always regarded such a law as very difficult to draw and I do not believe that it is going to be necessary. A lot of inconvenience is justified to keep the field of collective bargaining as free as possible."

No change in the present method for dealing with so-called "emergency" strikes is presently planned by Taft. There are a lot of things he doesn't like about the provisions in the Act, he said, "But the more I look at them, the more it seems to me that the wisdom of the change is very doubtful." Still, he says he is willing to consider other solutions.

The core of this section is the 80-day cooling-off period. It has long been a target of union officials who say it not yet solved one dispute. Under the Act the cooling-off period would be obtained through an injunction. During the 80 days a fact-finding board studies the dispute but does not make any recommendations.

Union officials feel that such a fact-finding board should be empowered to make such recommendations. This was done outside the Taft-Hartley Act in the more recent steel strike and much of industry did not appreciate the recommendations made by the Wage Stabilization Board.

In 1949 Taft introduced a modification amendment which passed the Senate. He would give the President power to call on both employer and employee to return to work before a board of inquiry is appointed. If the strike or lockout still continued despite the President's request, he would turn the whole thing over to Congress which would then pass special legislation. Also, the proposal provided that the President could apply to the court for seizure of the company or for a 60-day strike injunction or both. This was among his 28 proposed changes which were defeated in the House.

Many Washington observers believe that the climate for new labor legislation is just building up. Taft's eight proposed changes are not prompted by extreme pressure from industry. The Senator expects such pressure to mount in the months ahead.

How strong this pressure becomes and Taft's reaction to it will determine just what new labor legislation may be expected. It is generally conceded by neutral observers that he has the strength in the Senate Labor Committee and in both Houses of Congress to push through legislation pretty much to his liking.

And this year if the legislation is anti-labor, a Presidential veto cannot be confidently counted upon by labor.

YOUR HIGHWAYS by JAY SCOTT

Americans are a nation of motorists. We have more cars and more trucks and more drivers than any other country in the world. We also have more roads, by millions of miles. In the interest of keeping taxpayers informed on the subject of the highways they pay for, this newspaper will soon publish a series of columns on the subject. They will start appearing shortly. Look for them!

Know the Meaning Of Special Terms Used by Builders

If you're building or remodeling, it's helpful to know what construction terms mean. Here are definitions of some of the more common ones:

Soffit—The underside of any structural section. The term is often used in reference to the underside of a cornice.

Coping—A cap on the top of a masonry wall. It keeps water from seeping into the masonry work.

Caulking—Caulking is the process of sealing joints against the weather. Joints around door and window frames are usually caulked. A mastic compound is used.

Scratch coat—The first coat of plaster on a wall. It is scratched with a tool, forming a rough surface to which the second coat will adhere firmly.

Riser—In a stairway, a riser is the upright piece connecting stair treads.

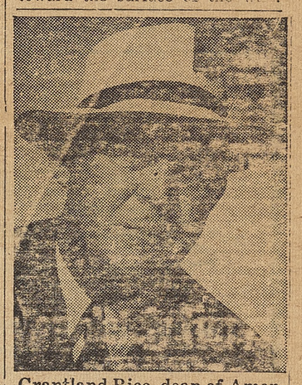
Lintel—A lintel is the horizontal load-supporting beam at the top of a window opening or a doorway.

Louver—An opening in a wall to allow free circulation of air inside. Air circulation lessens moisture condensation.

Jamb—The vertical piece at the side of a door or window opening.

Raked joint—A masonry joint in which the outer surface of the mortar is scraped away to form a groove. The groove then outlines the masonry units—bricks or concrete blocks.

Header brick—A brick laid with its end, instead of its side, toward the surface of the wall.



Grantland Rice, dean of American sports writers, again heads national sports drive for MARCH OF DIMES, January 2-31, and urges all sports promoters, athletic directors, graduate managers and everyone connected with sports to lend a helping hand. The need is greater than ever so please contact your local campaign director and do all you can to help in the fight against infantile paralysis.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK!

The Fountain of Youth may be a matter of what you eat.

The typical intake of food for a person over 55 years of age in this country amounts to only 1500 to 2000 calories daily, or about half the intake of a younger adult, according to Dr. Clive McCay, Cornell University nutritionist.

"With this lowered intake of food," cautions Dr. McCay, "every effort must be expended to insure high quality in terms of essentials."

Due to the lessening of an older person's food intake, many of the essentials in the diet are lost.

The American Medical Association Handbook of Nutrition states that as a result "low grades or minor degrees of vitamin deficiency can be assumed to be the rule rather than the exception."

The basic essentials in diet for people of advancing years have been outlined in a bulletin issued by the Rybutol Laboratories of the Vitamin Corporation of America.

The bulletin details the necessity for a constant variety in choice of foods, emphasizing the importance of raw fruits and vegetables. Caloric intake should be gradually reduced as a person grows older, protein-rich foods should be included in the diet, and fatty foods should be avoided.

Careful selection of food alone does not guarantee, the bulletin explains, a nutritious diet.

Dr. Edward Steiglitz, noted medical writer, states, in discussing the health problems of middle and older age groups — "Insuring this may require some supplementary administration of purified vitamins in capsule form."

Celebrates Twelfth Birthday Party

A large birthday party was given for Jacquelyn Barlow, 526 Ballard St., El Cajon, for her twelfth birthday, Nov. 28.

All favors and decorations were carried out with ballerina dolls and those made in part of pipe-cleaners by her mother. The table centerpiece was a real ballet doll which was poised on top of the birthday cake and on each side of the cake was a real doll with wooden head and curly hair bowing toward the cake. The favor dolls had heads of candy with hair attached and colored to match the dress and were in various poses in front of each plate at the table in different pastel shades with glitter on the dress. From the chandelier there were six dancing ballet dolls hanging over the table.

Jacquelyn is a student of ballet and her teacher, "Miss Virginia" Powell of the Allied Academy of Dance posed all of the dolls for the birthday party.

Invited guests were three cousins, Gary Scott, Lynn and Andrea Hutt; and the following friends: Rhoda Martinson, Adeline and Katherine Martin, who are sisters; Betty Harlow, Margo Axtell, Joan Palmer, Frances Wright, Linda Penney, Mary Ann Marston, Diane Condon, Kathleen Larinse, Janet Sosonowski, Betty Turpin, Bonnie Johnston, Raelene Brooks, Evonne Dawson; and a group of relatives.

"Kingdom Pictures From Jesus" will be the Rev. Everett J. LeCompte's sermon subject for next Sunday at the 11:00 o'clock church service. New-comers to the area are invited to bring their children to the 9:30 a. m. Sunday School with its classes from kindergarten to adult and to make use of the nursery during worship at 534 Highland St.

The regular meeting of the Session will be held Monday evening at the home of Mr. Martin W. Oliver, 507 Stephen Drive.

The regular meeting of the Sunday school teachers and staff will be held at the church Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

A special meeting of the high school and college age Young people will be held at the home of the pastor, 463 Falmouth Dr. at 7 p. m. next Sunday. A deputation team of young people from the San Diego Council of Westminster Fellowship will put on a demonstration meeting. All youth of the area not otherwise connected are invited.

ENGAGEMENTS . . .

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Catherine Marie to Edward Towne Roche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Roche is being made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Patitucci, of El Cajon. The wedding will take place December 21 in Central Congregational Church, La Mesa.

The bride-elect is a graduate of U. S. C., and her fiance, who received his degree from State College, is now a teaching and research assistant at U. S. C.

The engagement and approaching marriage has been made of Mrs. Jayne Roberts Ferrell, of El Cajon, and Richard G. Le Compte, formerly of Houston, Texas. The rites will be held December 20 at noon in First Spiritualist Church with Rev. Emily Davis officiating.

Mrs. Ferrell has asked Mrs. Glenn Fosyer to serve as her matron of honor. William Adams will act as best man.

Jean De Vos Honored At Party Saturday Eve.

A party was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Leo McKernan for their niece Jean De Vos and her former school mates from St. Martin's Academy.

Guests included the Misses Florence Baird, Kathleen and Susan Cunningham, Dolores and Judy Heisler, Rita Goldman, and Margo Meerbechtol.

Jean, now attending St. Agnes High School in Los Angeles, spent the Thanksgiving holiday with her Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter De Vos on North Grape Street. The McKernan's reside at 347 Park Ave.

Tourmaline Gem and Mineral Society

New officers of the Tourmaline Gem and Mineral Society who will take office in January are: president, Arthur Gray; vice-president, Cecil Manley; secretary, Lucille Williams; and treasurer, Dorothy Manley.

Plans were made for a four-day trip to Picacho over the New Year's weekend, and for a one-day trip to the territory near Pinto Mountain on the 25th of January.

After the meeting the retiring president, Whitney Hindes, invited his officers and committeemen to a Mexican snack at the Casa Blanca.

Engagement Revealed at Party

At a dinner party given in the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. N. Carlile of Lakeside November 18, the engagement of their daughter Mary to John L. Smiley was announced. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smiley of Lakeside.

Novel frosted hearts with two tiny wedding bells and a scroll held together with a wedding ring announced the bethrothal of the popular young couple.

A number of Mary's closest friends were guests at dinner and included Misses Mary Jay Dunham, Joyce Langlois, Marcia Spencer, Betty Bole and Mrs. Gerry Crabb.

Mary is a graduate of Grossmont High School and is now attending San Diego State College.

John graduated from Brown Military Academy and also attended John Brown's University in Arkansas.

No date has been set for the wedding.

"NEW FILM"

Evangelist Oral Roberts has just released his new film entitled "Venture Into Faith." The film is the story of the parents of a tubercular son who has been ill for some years. They rejoice after he has received divine healing through prayer at an Evangelistic meeting. The picture, built around the Evangelistic ministry of Rev. Oral Roberts, features the noted evangelist and his entire party in addition to professional actors who have previous religious film experience. Stars of the picture are Charles Gibb, David Day and Dorothy Ritter. It is considered the most powerful Faith story of the century. The film is 1 hour and 34 minutes long and cost $80,000 to produce. Your only chance to see it in San Diego will be this coming Sunday night, Dec. 7th, 7:30 p. m. at the La Mesa Gospel Tabernacle, 8809 La Mesa Blvd., La Mesa. Come early to get a good seat.

THE PEEPER

Bottom Fishing Pays Off in Quality

Although the fish per angler totals ran higher than usual, deep sea anglers put the accent on quality rather than quantity this week, and as a result some monster bottom fish were taken at the Coronado Islands on the daily trips of San Diego sportfishing boats.

It was Bill Strong, veteran San Diego angler, who started the bottom fishermen buzzing by boating a 28½ pound ling cod, the largest fish of that species brought in here by sportsmen in several seasons. On the same day, other anglers landed ling only slightly smaller than Strong's, and some believed to be larger bore down into the rocks and were lost.

Anglers fishing the shallower waters around the Coronado Islands also had their innings with big sheepshead and white fish, and sheepshead in the 23 pound class were bagged by Herb Panchot and Harold Hanson.

El Cajon anglers who took advantage of the red hot fishing the early part of the week to fill their quotas of big red cod and white fish included Cliff Plumlee, D. E. Cole, Ed Anderson, H. Takashima, Benny Haskins, and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cole.

A woman's suffrage law was passed in the territory of Wyoming, Dec. 10, 1869.

The first Woman's Rights Convention was held at Seneca Falls, N. Y., July 19, 1848.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Lakeside Union School District of San Diego County, California, acting by and through its Governing Board, hereinafter referred to as the District, will receive up to, but not later than 7:30 o'clock p. m. of the 10th day of December, 1952, sealed bids for the award of a contract for the purchase of a School Bus.

Such bids shall be received in the office of the Governing Board of said District located at Woodside and Prospect Avenues, Lakeside, California, and shall be opened and publicly read aloud at the above stated time and place.

Each bid must conform and be responsive to this Notice, the Information for Bidders, the Specifications, the Plans, if any, and all other documents comprising the pertinent Contract Documents. Copies of the Contract Documents are now on file and may be obtained in the office of said Board at the above address.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check payable to the District, or a satisfactory bid bond in favor of the District executed by the bidder as principal and a satisfactory surety company as surety, in an amount not less than 5% of the maximum amount of the bid. The check or bid bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder shall execute the contract if it be awarded to him in conformity with the Contract Documents, within five (5) days after notification of the award of the contract to the bidder.

The successful bidder shall obligate himself to deliver said School Bus complete and satisfactory to the District not later than February 15, 1953, upon penalty of forfeiture of liquidated damages, all as set forth in the Contract Documents.

The District reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive any irregularities or informalities in the bids or in the bidding. Preference will be made in the award for California made supplies, pursuant to Sections 4330 to 4334, inclusive, Government Code.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

Christian Scientists Hold Thanksgiving Services

"O sing unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord, all the earth." This verse from the Psalms (96:1) was the Golden Text of the annual Thanksgiving service conducted on Thursday in all Christian Science churches.

Through thanksgiving and praise, acknowledging God's allness and power, man gains dominion over fear and discouragement. A Bible selection from The Acts read that when they were cast into prison "at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: . . . And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed" (16:25,26).

"The power of God brings deliverance to the captive," declared Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She added, "No power can withstand divine Love" (p. 224).

Testimonies pertinent to the Thanksgiving season were given by Christian Scientists in the congregation.

The first petroleum well in the United States was opened at Titusville, Pa., Aug. 28, 1859.

Half of the foreign trade, by value, of the United States passes through the ports of New York state.

Please Take Action

The regular Parent Teachers Association meeting will be held Tuesday evening, December 9. The meeting will be in the Lakeside School at 7:45 p. m. Topic: Widened Horizon For Families. A film, "Picture in Your Mind," will also be shown. Guy Kendall will present his Glee Club students, singing special Christmas music. There will also be community singing.

Hart Dunham will talk on the history of "Mistletoe."

Room mothers from Mrs. Kroll's and Mrs. Peters' 6th grades and Mr. Phillips' 5th and 6th grades will be hostesses.

The El Capitan Council will meet in the Lakeside Education Center Dec. 8th at 9:45 a. m. Lakeside and Santee schools will act as co-hostesses, and will serve coffee and dessert.

Hills Residents To Display Christmas Outdoor Decorations

Eucalyptus Hills residents will be able to get a variety of electrical supplies for outside Christmas displays at wholesale prices from Irving Lyons.

Residents beginning to plan their Christmas tree or scene should call Mr. Lyons at once at H4-1498, in order that delivery will be made before Christmas.

Judges cover all main traveled roads in the Hills before giving the two awards, cash prizes of ten and five dollars.

If a family wishes to make a Christmas display which will not be visible from the road, the judges should be informed of its location. This information will go to the judges if such families will call Mrs. Jack Hedger at H4-1823.

M[illegible]chow's Have Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Minchow of Casper, Wyoming have been visiting with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Al Minchow of Lakeside Farms. They will leave for their home some time this week.

Recovering From Flu

A good number of Lakesiders have been down with influenza again this year and among them are Mrs. Rudy Shellum, Maurice Smith and Eileen Sumner.

Yuma Wedding for Local Young Couple

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart of San Diego wish to announce the marriage of their daughter Patsy Bailey to Dennis Damon, son of Mr .and Mrs. R. M. Damon of Lakeside. They were wed Thanksgiving Day, November 27, in Yuma.

Mrs. Damon and Mrs. Stewart attended the ceremony.

Both of the newlyweds have been attending Grossmont High School and are now living in Lakeside with Dennis' parents.

CARD PARTY AT PARISH HALL

A card party will be held Sunday evening in the Parish Hall at 7:30 p. m. There will be door prizes and candy. Bridge, canasta, pinochle and five hundred will be played, or if you desire you can make up your own tables. 75c a corner. Refreshments will be served.

The public is invited. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Tom Barkdull, H4-1217.

New Officers For Altar Society

Newly elected officers of the Altar Society of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church were seated at the meeting which was held Wednesday, Dec. 3. They are Mrs. Rudy Shellum, President, Mrs. McGrath, First Vice Pres., Mrs. Yoggerst, Second Vice-Pres., Mrs. Barkdull, Secretary, and Mrs. Rogers, Treasurer.

Good News Comes On Birthday

By way of a telephone message good news was revealed to Mrs. Mary Biggs from her son Ormond last Sunday when Mrs. Biggs was celebrating her birthday. He is being released from the Navy Medical Corps at Bainbridge, Md., where he has served for 16 months and will be coming home this weekend. Arriving with Ormond will be his bride of just a few months.

Ormond served for a year during the first World War and after it was over he attended USC where he received his Masters Degree. He then was drafted and has spent the greater part of the 16 months on the east coast.

Also present at the birthday celebration were Mrs. Biggs' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Bryan and two daughters. Mr. Bryan has just been re-elected to the position of first judge of the Pixley Judicial District for a six year term.

A Christmas Hint

For a very worthwhile Christmas gift, give someone a subscription to the Parent Teachers Magazine at $1.00 per year, or Membership Pins for any PTA member at 60c each.

Either of these can be ordered through the schools.

Anyone wishing to help repair toys which have been donated for giving to needy children, may contact Mrs. Shirley Anderson at H4-1451.

JEANS AND SOX are needed by the Welfare Chairman Mrs. Louise Maloney to be used on rainy days at the school. When a child comes to school and accidently becomes soaked, he will be given a change of jeans and sox.

Visiting at Barker Home

Mr. Clarence Lantz from Memphis, Mo., is a house guest at the Otis Barker home. Mr. Lantz is a brother of Mrs. Barker and is enjoying the holidays with his kin folks. He also plans to visit a son in Pomona.

Walter McAdams Speaker At First Congregational Church

Walter McAdams was the guest speaker last Tuesday at the First Congregational Church, Sixth and "A" Street, San Diego. The occasion was the monthly dinner meeting of the Men's Club of that church. Walter Stark is the minister and Earl Studley Program chairman.

Mr. McAdams gave an unusual and excellent salesmanship interpretation of the Holy Bible. He pointed out many informative reasons why the Holy Bible has been the best seller every year since its inception. His interpretations of the selling impact were based upon the McAdams System of SALES-MAN-SHIP and his interpretations of the genetic characteristics of JESUS CHRIST were based upon Mr. McAdams' teachings of the SCIENCE OF GENETICS. The combination of these two subjects, SALES-GENETICS is to be released in deluxe book form next month under the authorship of Walter McAdams.

An Open House will be held Sunday, December 7, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Damon on Lakeside Ave., from 2 to 4 p. m. to honor the newly married couple. Friends are cordially invited.

Wot Goes On . . .

By Millie

Most of us are beginning to get Christmas conscious and wondering what to buy for various members of our families, and then along comes that annual bill from the tax collector reminding us that our first installment will be delinquent after Dec. 10th - now please tell m[illegible] how can we ever begin to think of the holidays with this wet blanket thrown at us. Well, ita happens every year so we should be used to it by now. The only thing is the majority of home owners have increased taxes to pay this year.

The old flu bugs are spreading their evil around again and many are down sick. Just about everyone I met today either had a cold or were just getting over one. It happens every winter, rain or shine.

Velma Lake is in a dither regarding her property over there at the Builders Store. She wants to do some improving, but because of the new highway coming almost past her front door she is at a loss as to what to do.

We are sorry that Ned Bowker has had such a bad seige of illness, and he certainly is missed around these parts. We'll be glad to see you back home from that hospital soon Ned, and our best wishes go to you for a complete recovery. Ned has been our faithful secretary for the Chamber of Commerce this past year, and has gone a mighty fine job of it.

Say! have you seen all the god looking things Huffman's are getting in? I've been prowling around and believe it or not they have nighties, slips and lounging pajamas that are up to Marston's in San Diego. And a grand supply of Christmas ornaments are available. Get in there before they are picked over. They have the new type of denim pants and jackets lined with checkered flannel which the young fry are in love with, and gee just oodles of practical gifts. Go in and look around, Harvey and Helen will be glad to see you.

Hear tell that the run off from recent rains isn't going into the lake, but is flooding nearby ranches, so we are wondering just what is going to be done about this little matter. Our lake is beginning to look good and what thrills me the most is to see the mud hens and some ducks swimming around as in the olden days. Watch out you duck hunters, no hunting or shooting allowed as Lindo Lake is a game refuge.

We should see Lakeside's Maine St. lighted up before very long. Forace Boyd is in charge and will do the job up right as always. This year will see another string of lights added to those we already have.

We hear that the folks up in the Eucalyptus Hills area are going to have outdoor Christmas decorations and are having a contest with prizes being given to the two best. Now I think it would be a wonderful idea if all of Lakeside would fall in line with this idea and light up our community in every section. It doesn't take very many lights to make a good showing at night, so let's all do our bit, neighbors.

Bob Watkins will serve another one of his delicious meals at the Chamber meeting next Monday evening in the Kiwanis Hall, and we want to tell Bob we appreciate his efforts along with all the rest of the hard work he has to do in his Bake Sweet Shop. Nice going Bob, and we hope there will be a large turnout at this final meeting of the year 1952.

All Nations Shall Glorify God Lesson Declares

Scientific healing rests today, as in Jesus' time, on the understanding that God alone is Cause and Creator asserts the Sunday Lesson-Sermon "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all Christian Science churches.

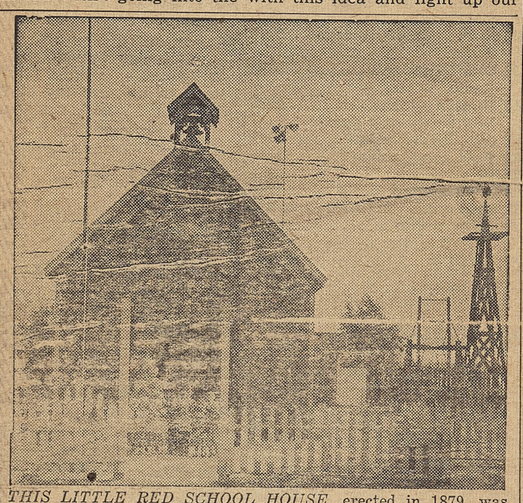
In the Golden Text the Psalmist (86:9, 10) sings: "All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name. For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone."

Luke's Gospel (13:11-13) records that when Jesus saw "a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself . . . he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity . . . And immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Immortal Mind is the only cause; therefore disease is neither a cause nor an effort. Mind in every case is the eternal God, good. Sin, disease, and death have no foundations in Truth" (p. 415).

TAKEN IN STRIDE

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Chester Middleton, 15, didn't snap his perfect attendance record at Sunday School when the doctor removed his appendix. Chester's class moved to the hospital, keeping the lad's 11-year perfect attendance intact.



THIS LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE, erected in 1879, was where some of our present-day pioneers got their first schooling. This school at Abilene, Kansas, on the vast American Prairie, was a far cry from our great school system of today . . . but is where many first learned their "3 R's."

New explorers reported this region a sandy waste, but this was discovered false after successive waves of migration had moved west. The myth of the "Great American Desert" was exploded. Many a fleet of "prairie schooners" crossed Kansas en route to Utah and California.

Coronado led the first Europeans (Spaniards) into what is now Kansas. Except for a brief French occupation and a few other explorers, Kansas was inhabited solely by Indians until after the Louisiana Purchase. Little red school houses, symbol of American education, sprang up all over the region in 1870 and the 1880's.

The pupils usually walked to school where one teacher taught all grades. A few lucky lads or lassies rode a horse or pony, usually bareback or with a quilt in lieu of a saddle. Often two or three kids on the same pony. The school "marm" rode a side saddle if boarding too far to walk.

The families were a rugged lot. Horses and wagons were too busy with farm work to be spared to take children to school.

Walter Knott of Knott's Berry Farm bought the school, the original blackboards, desks, slates and furnishings. It has been reassembled with an old windmill to present an authentic picture of the area, collection of McGuffey's Readers, maps and calendars of the times and is another Ghost provided for posterity. A Ghost that will live again for the entertainment and pleasure of visitors, young and old.

Miss Nina Duden, formerly of Kansas and for many years teacher in California schools, plays school teacher while sentiment brings many visitors from Kansas and the wide open spaces.

Incidentally, Miss Duden is actually teaching the grandchildren of Walter and Cordelia Knott . . . third generation of the founders of Knott's Berry Farm and Ghost Town. Here in the little red school house of pioneer days the third generation of the Knott family are learning their ABC's.

TOYLAND PARADE SET FOR SUNDAY

The North Park Business club will present the 16th annual Toyland parade of 16 divisions, and more than a hundred units next Sunday afternoon, starting at 2:15 p.m. The parade will move from Bancroft st. westward along University ave. to Arizona, thence south to Morley field, where the presentation of awards will be made to the winners. Beautiful floats will be entered by National City, El Cajon, Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, La Mesa, Coronado and Linda Vista, in addition to eight sponsored floats, and 16 bands and marching units. There will be 50 clowns to entertain the kiddies, and distribute candy. The North Park Business club will enter the theme, or "Toyland" float, and the queen's float, on which will ride lovely Jeanie Heinz, 15-year-old Hoover high school co-ed, who is shown above, receiving the crown from last year's queen, Carol Trabert. The parade will be headed by the championship Bonham Brothers band, and officials of the pageant.

ALPINE

L. TITUS — H4-2479

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crocker of Lodi spent the Thanksgiving holiday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kuitnik, props. of Alpine Habit Auto Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hensley and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hensley of Kansas City, members of the Pigeon Raisers Ass'n., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kuitnik. They will leave Wednesday for Los Angeles to exhibit their birds at the Glendale Show. Len Kuitnik will exhibit at Glendale, showing thirty birds.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo Noll, of Manitowoc, Wis., visited the Kuitniks. They are on their way to Encinitas to spend the winter with their son and grandchildren.

Anne Caldwell, accompanied by Helene Sherman, is attending the convention of the Tri Hi-Y at Asilomar.

The Troop Commitee of the Alpine Boy Scouts appeals to the residents of the Alpine area and Harbison Canyon to give work to the boys so they may earn their way to the Scout National Jamboree next July. Call L. Titus, H4-2479 and a boy wil be sent to you.

Frank O. Wright, 66, retired barber and Alpine resident, was buried in Mt. Hope Cemetery Nov. 26. Mr. Wright served in the Merchant Marine during World War II.

Cecil and Mrs. Lewinson spent Thanksgiving Day at his brother's home in San Diego.

Many Alpine home owners have refused permission to hunters who want to hunt quail on their property. Aside from the fact most hunters wouldn't know the difference between a quail and a turkey, these residents like the birds and feed them and encourage them to stay.

Work on the new Community Church is progressing rapidly, the brick walls are rising and the great amount of steel reinforcing gives the impression of strength and permanence.

Blanche McCall will attend the dinner at the Grant Hotel Dec. 4 for the Annual Meeting of the chairman of the March of Dimes Campaign. Jean Kern will also attend as an interested participant in this important activity.

Helen Ortega of Campo and Bobby Foeeble of Jacumba report preparations progressing for their participation. Don Fox, instructor at Mt. Empire High School, has been appointed chairman for the school.

Mrs. McCall announces a Show and Dance will be held during the last week-end of January as a fund raising activity.

Bea La Force and Dorothy McDonald, local writers, have sold a story on which they collaborated called "Deal For Death," to the Toronto Star, of Toronto, Canada. Mrs. La Force also sold a story of her own to the same magazine entitled "Christmas for the Little Kids."

Mrs. Steve Winslow spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Winslow at Minneapolis. The couple will return to Alpine together.

It is earnestly suggested the residents of Alpine remember the young men from our community who are now in Korea. Write them letters and let them know they are not forgotten just because they are away on a tough job. Do it now, while they can still read your letters.

Members of the Gamma Gamma Sorority gave a baby shower for Eleanor Kidder Wednesday at the home of Naomi Dowdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fox announce the arrival of a daughter on Eisenhower Day, Nov. 4.

Letters from Barbara and Erwin Longfellow(now living in Seattle, tell of pleasant memories of Alpine. Erwin was the Scoutmaster of Alpine Troop for two years and made it one of the best in California. He is now Scoutmaster of a Troop in Seattle, but will soon give it up to become District Commissioner. His son, Gary, will become a Star Scout next week and Kurt is also doing very well in Scouting. Gary will be remembered for his enthusiastic participation in Scouting in Alpine and for his promising artistic talents. Barbara has many pleasant memories of her activities in Alpine and will be remembered by her many friends for her support of Scout activities, both the Cubs and the Scout Troop which enjoyed such phenominal success under Erwin's direction.

The monthly meeting of the Cub Scouts of Alpine was well attended despite the inclement weather and bad roads. This rapidly growing Pack now has thirty-seven registered members with many more soon to join.

Ed Miller, outgoing Cubmaster, opened the meeting and then turned it over to Hugh Trail, the new Cubmaster. The Cubs were given their Annual Inspection by L. K. Anderson, Frank Brown and Ed Miller, checking for appearance, insignia and stripes. Six boys rating 90% or better are Stanley Mumma, Michael Graham, Haakon Magnusson, Tommy Klipp, David George and Jeffrey Heyser. Mike Fitzgerald and Manuel Maddox each received a 1 year pin for service as Den Chiefs. Cub Scout Committeeman is Chas. W. Kern.

The Alpine 4-H Club has elected officers for the coming year as follows: Stephen Mercer, President; Ralph Magnusson, Vice-president; Mike Kern, Secretary; George Landt, Treasurer and Alfred Randazzo, Reporter. Meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month at the Alpine Community Church at 7:00 p. m.

A hike to Sweetwater River was enjoyed by the 4-H Club Saturday. The members attended the recent meeting of the Rabbit Breeders Ass'n. at Encanto with their Project Advisor, Jim Blackton.

While visiting the Lawrence Fox family in Alpine Mr. and Mrs. Noble of Neoga, Ill., were so pleased by the Alpine area they plan to return as permanent residents.

The Alpine Fire Dept. has mailed pamphlets entitled "Fire Safety Plan For Peace or War" to all residents of the area. This brochure gives detailed instructions for checking for fire hazards, including an illustrated list of what to look for throughout the house and garage. Also proper conduct while in the forests; how to report a fire. The Fire Dept. telephone number is prominently displayed. Don't throw this pamphlet away, read it carefully and memorize its contents, and be guided accordingly. Co-operate wth your volunteer fire dept.

Alpine's Dr. Ruth Hubbert appeared on Harold Keen's Television program Wednesday evening. While the appearance was brief it was very interesting, the doctor telling of the problems of a country doctor over many years.

At the Thursday meeting of Kiwanis Club of Alpine, Mr. English of the Mobile Homes Corp. of San Diego told of the production line methods of home building and the problems of delivering the completed homes over the highways.

John Mitich announced that the proceeds of his recent Fuller Brush Products sale Ladies' Night amounted to $97.00, which he donated to the Youth Activities Fund. John also announced his departure for his new home at Escondido, where he will enter the Real Estate field. Members expressed their regret at his leaving.

Carmen Bailey was hostess recently at a plastics party and as usual when this highly talented lady entertains, it was a very successful event. An old friend, Evelyn Watkins, was agent for the plastics products. She is a former Alpine resident and found many old friends among those present.

While the residents of Alpine sympathize with arthritis sufferers they still do not carry their solicitude to the point of giving up all radio entertainment while the arthritics use violet ray equipment to ease their aches and pains. Recently the interference has become unbearable and complaints are being made to the Federal Communications Commission Office with the request this interference be traced to its source and stopped.

The Raymond B. Brownlees have sold their Alpine home to Richard A. Ashment of Spring Valley, and are moving to their recently purchased home in San Diego Dec. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee have resided in Alpine for 11 years and will be greatly missed by their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ashment and family will take possession as soon as possible.

Grace Buckmiller has returned home from the hospital after several days of X-rays and treatment and is much improved.

Kenneth Kern, son of Jean and Hans Kern, of Victoria Drive, is visiting his parents while on vacation from his position with a firm of architects n New York City. Kenneth studied architecture at the University of Oregon, later going to New York. While here he purchased acreage at Parkhurst, near Fresno, where he will build his home. He plans to visit Europe to further his studies. He drew the plans for the fine new Scout House to be built in Alpine and at present is designing a home for his parents, to be built on their Cuyamaca Ranch.

Marcus Schaeffer and John Mitich, in charge of the Red Feather Campaign in Alpine, report slow progress toward their goal of $850.00. So far, despite heroic efforts on the part of Jeanette Williams, Joyce Bradshaw, Marylou Eggleston and Anne Caldwell, only $600.00 has been raised.

The Women's Club gave a Luncheonette Party Thursday to raise funds for their Christmas activities. Attendance was very good.

The Alpine P. T. A. held an Open House Thursday evening which was enjoyed by an overflow crowd. Speaker for the evening was Mr. Riley, principal of Grossmont High School, who spoke on the highly controversial subject of School Unification. If this high-handed raid by the La Mesa-Lemon Grove District is permitted the children of the Alpine area will have no high school facilities available, but their parents must continue paying for the Grossmont and Helix High School bldgs.

Buddy Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Archer, is expected home from Korea shortly after Christmas.

Mrs. Minnie Hornbeck, a guest at Alpine Rest Home the past two weeks, has returned to her home in La Mesa.

Mrs. Estella Twyford has returned to East San Diego after a month at Alpine Rest Home.

An Alpine couple, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mathews, celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary last week and were greeted by many friends.

Edith Davis of Puetz Valley is out of the hospital and receiving visitors at her home.

4-H CLUB

The regular meeting November 17 was held to discuss project tours and the first tour will be to the Oliver Ranch at Descanso to study beef cattle, under the direction of Hans Kern, Sr., and Dr. Robert Mercer.

The Leder laboratories sent booklets on Cattle Husbandry to each boy conducting the beef project, also a booklet on Control of Poultry Diseases to all boys having the poultry project.

The American Rabbit Breeders Association gave a booklet entitled "Practical Beginning of Successful Rabbit Raising" to each boy for the rabbit project, as reported by Alfred Randazzo for the boys 4-H Club.

SCOUT NEWS

Explorers Hans Kern, Jr., Cecil Smythe, Steve Johnson, David Fooks, and Scouts Red Oslife, Jimmy Grable, Kenneth Rudy, Steve Mitchell gathered at the site of the new Scouthouse on Thursday evening, November 20, and worked several hours preparing the site for the layout crew which made outlines for this service Saturday. This crew was composed of Walter Boortz, Grossmont district explorer advisor, L. K. Nogales-Mexico City Road To Be Dedicated Before Completion

The 1537-mile Nogales to Mexico City Highway will be dedicated Nov. 28. However, construction has not been completed on approximately 188 miles of the highway, the Touring Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California said today.

A survey made last week by the Auto Club shows that the road is in good condition from Nogales to Navojoa, although it is necessary to use a ford or ferry over two rivers.

Much of the 260-mile section of the highway from Navojoa to Culiacan is in poor condition for car travel even in dry weather and impassable in many places during rainy weather because of detours and lack of bridges.

Between Culiacan and Tepic, a distance of more than 300 miles, there are many fords and ferries where bridges are either under construction or in the planning stage. Repairs of the existing oil mix road surface are needed in many places.

The highway from Tepic to Guadalajara offers no obstacles. The highway is paved from Guadalajara to Mexico City.

In some areas, especially from Ciudad Obregon to Culiacan, good sleeping and eating accomodations are very limited. Although the distance between the two points is only 302 miles, road conditions make it necessary for a full day's travel, the Auto Club added.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — There's one of those tricky water fountains in the sewer commissioner's office here—the kind that squirts you in the face when you stoop for a drink. The office force has dubbed it "Old Faceful."

FOR HOLIDAY CHEER

NEW FOOD IDEAS are always in demand, especially when the holiday season rolls around. And here's a brand new recipe for an old holiday standby—bread pudding. The addition of a surprise ingredient, coconut Mounds, makes this the most delectable bread pudding recipe to appear in many a moon. For holiday cheer and cheers from the whole family try this easy-to-make taste-treat. The proof of this pudding is in the eating.

MOUNDS BREAD PUDDING

Makes 6 servings

2 Mounds bars (1 package), thinly sliced
3 slices buttered bread, diced
2 eggs
2 cups milk
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

1. Lightly butter 1-quart baking dish. 2. Arrange alternate layers of Mounds and bread in dish. 3. Beat eggs lightly in small bowl; add milk, sugar, nutmeg, salt, and vanilla; stir until sugar dissolves. 4. Pour over bread-Mounds layers in baking dish; place in deep baking pan; add hot water to half fill baking pan. 5. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. 6. Serve pudding warm or chilled.

BBB WARNING

CHRISTMAS TIME is a time for generosity and kindness. But it's also a time for caution against Christmas rackets which appear each year about this time—including these:

1. Phony promotions claiming to raise funds for needy families.

2. Door-to-door peddlers claiming to represent national firms and taking down payments on goods which are never delivered.

3. "Bargains" on Christmas tree decorations and toys actually unfit for use.

4. Increased activity in the unordered merchandise schemes.

5. Increased activity by "bait advertisers" who make phony offers.

When in doubt see B.B.B.!

Poinsettia Bowl Game to be Staged At Balboa Stadium

San Diego County football fans will be treated to one of the nation's outstanding postseason tilts on December 20 when the first annual Poinsettia Bowl game is staged at Balboa Stadium between top-ranking teams of the Navy or Marine Corps and Air Force or Army.

This will be a world-wide Armed Forces championship event climaxing the civic celebration of Poinsettia Week, a fiesta to include the Poinsettia Tournament, ball, parade and pageant. The overall program is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the football game by 11th Naval District Commandant, Rear Admiral John W. Roper, USN.

In the Poinsettia Bowl it will be the Naval Training Center Bluejackets or the Marine Corps Recruit Depot Devildogs, whichever team wins the 11ND title on November 29, opposed by Bolling Air Force Base or Fort Eustis.

Currently Bolling AFB and NTC stand one-two in National ratings of Armed Forces elevens, on a level with such college powerhouses as Oklahoma, Michigan and Minnesota.

Rosters of the service leaders indicate that more nationally famed stars will compete in the Poinsettia Bowl classic than in any other postseason clash. The field includes Al Dorow (Michigan State), Wilbur Jamerson (Kentucky), Walter Klevay (Ohio State), Melvin Groomes (Indiana and Detroit Lions), Bill Wade (Vanderbilt), Jim Monachino (UC and 49'ers), Verl Lillywhite (USC and 49'ers), Bob Boyd (L. A. Rams) and Breck Stroschein (UCLA and NY Yankees).

Reserved seat tickets for the Poinsettia Bowl event are now on sale at the 11th Naval District Headquarters office of the Director of Special Services. Midfield tickets are priced at $3.60 and from the 30-yard line to the goal line at $3.00, making this the bargain event of bowl contests.

GROSSMONT GATHERINGS . . .

By Ava J. Gillard

Surprise! Surprise! That was the cry that came out at Joan Farmer's birthday party.

The people who threw the party for Joan and were there to count the candles, all eighteen, plus the cake and ice cream were: Jacqueline Hahn, Manuel Alvarez, Betty Bernett, Lea Byher, Rosalie Bonfiovanne, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Farmer.

Fun was had by all.

Poor old Grossmont - when we let that unmentionable school (Helix) beat us in the Band review at Long Beach, we must be getting old. What has happened to us?

The F. B. L. A. had their initiation of new members Tuesday night. Old members gave speeches while the new members took the oath.

The trophy was awarded to Pat McCain, the most outstanding of last year.

Another initiation was held by the G. A. A. After the business of initiating the new members everybody watched movies of the Olympics.

Mr. Eddie Winterstein, retired superintendent of Standard Oil Co. of California was dinner guest of his old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lew P. Jenkins at their ranch home near Santee.

Entertain Rotary

Grossmont High School boys and girls entertained for Rotary Club in El Cajon on Tuesday evening, Nov. 25. Members and their wives heard a trombone quartet play a group of traditional Grossmont songs. The quartet is made up of Phil Butler, Ryan Martinez, Joe Famme, and Al Frisch.

A boys' quintet made up of Taylor Evans, John Bodie, Jack Plum, Bob Marquis, and Noel Smith sang "Old Ark's A-Moverin'", 'Old Pals of Mine," and "Coney Island Babe."

A girls' trio sang "I Don't Know Why" and "Dear Old Dad."

The trio consist of Lorraine Henrie, Pat Cronkhite, and Shirley Riggs. A duet team, Barbara Tuttle and Lavelle La Moreaux, did "Carolina Moon" and "Walking My Baby Back Home."

From the Grossmont speech department, Loren Acord presented the oration "Defense of Leopold and Loeb." Diane Morgan gave the humorous reading "Kiss and Tell."

Harold C. Lutz, Merle C. Donohue, and Lee Roloff are the teachers who have helped to prepare the students, and Harry C. Riley, served as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Isreal Nobles is leaving on December 10th to visit relatives and friends in her old home in New Orleans, La. and spend Christmas with them.

Awards to California 4-H Club Youth

TOP RATING honors in the Golden Bear State were awarded four teenagers for high ratings in the 1952 National 4-H Leadership and Achievement programs. Highlights of their records indicate they were active all-round 4-H'ers.

Recognition for outstanding leadership in club and community activities was accorded John Dutra, Jr., 19, of Solvang, and Alice Adams, 20, of Orange. A 4-H'er for five years, John has been a junior or assistant leader for the past four. Through his junior leadership activities he has revived interest and enthusiasm in a failing club. John personally supervised 12 boys in their agricultural projects and made numerous project visits, and phone calls. He was National Awards County winner in leadership for two years, tractor maintenance one year, and meat animal one year. He won a scholarship to the Junior Leader Conference and was chosen 4-H County All-Star for 1951-52. At present John is majoring in animal husbandry at California State Polytechnic College.

Award is one of the highest honors bestowed on Club boys and girls. Selection is based upon over-all project accomplishment, production records and club and community activity. Jeff has made an outstanding record during eight years in club work. In the national awards contest he has received county medals for four projects plus dairy achievement medals for two years and tractor maintenance for three. In his dairy project he has had a grand champion at the State Fair since 1947 plus first and second place winners. He has been a leader of two clubs and a junior leader for three years. In his community work he has given 15 radio broadcasts; has written 40 newspaper articles pertaining and writes a column featuring outstanding 4-H'ers of the county.

John Dutra, Jr.

Alice Adams

Jeff McGrew

Gloria Ward

Miss Adams has been in club work eight years, during which time she has held every office in her local club. She has been secretary and treasurer of the county organization and was dorm leader at the state convention. She was unanimously selected as the 1952 All-Star member. As assistant leader, Alice has received nationwide recognition for her guidance in a farm and home safety program. She has entered 18 judging contests, 18 livestock showmanship contests and has given 570 individual demonstrations. Miss Adams is now enrolled at the University of Wyoming. A 17-jewel wrist watch was presented to each by Edward Foss Wilson, president of Wilson and Co., Chicago.

State-wide recognition has been accorded Jeff McGrew, II, 17, of Woodland, and Gloria Ward, 20, of Arcadia, for superior records of achievement. The 4-H Achievement

In Gloria's five years in club work she has completed 33 projects. During her first year her thoroughbred mare was selected champion at the 4-H Fair. Her interest in animals extended to pigeons, with which she won first place at a championship pigeon show, and a dog who won three firsts and two trophies as the highest scoring dog in obedience tests. Gloria was County Dress Revue winner placing fourth in the state. In 1951 she showed the grand champion steer at County Fair and with money earned from the sale, attended summer school at the University of Hawaii where she gave many talks. Gloria is now attending the University of California at Davis. A set of two miniature statues symbolizing achievement was awarded Jeff and Gloria by Ford Motor Co., new awards donor in this program.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

THIS IS ART WEST CALLING

CHRISTMAS NOTES

In view of the ever-increasing articles seen in the papers and the over-size ads placed by the stores, we get the impression that Santa and his crew are getting pretty close to town. Along this time of year we think it would be a good idea to start making a list of the shopping you have to do, and in this regard we have prepared the enclosed "Shopping List" for your convenience. Hope you can make good use of it . . . and also use our many insurance services at any time.

SERVICES

The ART WEST Company is in the process of expanding and improving the many services offered by our office, in the line of insurance as well as real estate. We feel that our clients have helped us to build the best insurance agency east of the San Diego city limits, and we propose to keep it that way by constantly improving on our methods and the many services we have to offer the citizens of this entire area. Our growth has been built on service and our motto "We Insure Everything Except Yesterday!" We are now going one step further and presently have in operation a Property Management department, which means we can handle the rental of your property while on a trip, or on a permanent basis if you like. Come in and talk it over. If you have properties to rent, we can handle it for you. We supervise the maintenance, pay the taxes, keep the property rented and evict unsatisfactory occupants. Also we handle all papers regarding the rent control laws. — AND YOU HAVE A WORRY-FREE INCOME FROM YOUR PROPERTY!

MERCHANDISING

A business friend of mine called the other evening and naturally the conversation got around to business methods and operations.

"Merchandising has certainly changed in the past few years," my friend remarked. "Supermarkets offering one-stop-shop service are doing more business than ever before. Drug stores are now small department stores and Variety stores now offer even a wider variety than before. How does this affect the insurance business?" he asked me.

I answered, "The insurance business has changed too. We now can write a single liability policy to cover autos, home, business, and other items, which takes the place of several policies as it would have had to be written years ago. And besides, the coverage is broader and the cost less. We have also simplified the writing of surety and fidelity bonds. Many of our companies now write ALL types of bonds and insurance as well as Life Insurance and Accident and Health."

"That's Interesting," my friend commented.

"Yes, but still only a part of the story. Consider that one-stop-shop idea for a moment. Our agency can furnish any kind of insurance desired, which makes it unnecessary to go elsewhere to complete your protection. And through our years of study and experience we have found it highly advantageous to our clients to have all their insurance in our agency, thus eliminating any duplication or gaps in their wall of insurance protection. Yes, we say, 'Let a single call do it all'."

TOURIST GETS BARGAIN

BRISBANE, Australia — A 50-cent sapphire bought by an American tourist, W. Dooling, turned out to be worth more than $400. A Brisbane gem cutter told Dooling his stone, bought from an old prospector, is a "green star" sapphire.

SWAP BIRTHDAYS

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Larry Christley, 23, a sailor, was shipping out, so he swapped birthdays with his 19 year old sister Mary Jo. The family had a party for Larry and now Mary Jo must wait until Jan. 23 for her celebration.

The first air mail service, begun in 1918, was confined to the Eastern seaboard of the United States.

Better Bus. Bureau Issues Warning

San Diegans, like all Americans, begin displaying their most generous attitudes about this time of the year. Christmas seems to affect most people that way. Unfortunately, the holiday season also draws out a number of "sharp operators" and unscrupulous promoters who bilk the public with schemes that hinge on the Christmas spirit.

That is the warning issued by the Better Business Bureau.

"It is unfortunate that such operators as these still manage to spring their schemes each year," said Frank B. Jennings, general manager of the Better Business Bureau. "Even though steps have been taken to thin out their ranks, many appear on the scene every Christmas."

Jennings listed some of the operations of which the public should be aware. They include:

1. Phony promotion schemes to raise funds for the needy. These are carried on either by phone, by mail or by direct contact. The B. B. B. suggests the best way to avoid such rackets is by giving only to the established fund appeals. When a contributor is in doubt, he is urged to call the Bureau's office (F. 6521).

2. Door-to-door peddlers claiming to represent national distributors of perfumes, furs, woolens and a number of other gift items. These operators take a sizeable down-payment and then are never heard from again. Persons approached with such a deal are asked to call the Bureau, Jennings said.

3. "Bargain" offers on Christmas tree decorations and toy assortments. Many such items turn out to be completely unfit for use. The Better Business Bureau's suggestion for avoiding these tricks is to be sure before you purchase by dealing with merchants you know.

4. Increased tempo in unordered merchandise operations. These organizations operate all year — sending books, neckties, wallets, pen and pencil sets and other unordered goods, then demanding payment — but they step up their operations just before Christmas, the Bureau reports.

"These are by no means all the rackets which you are apt to be confronted with during this holiday season," Jennings said. "Unfortunately, we cannot know what new schemes will be foisted on the public. But by being aware of these, and by reporting any other questionable activities to the Better Business Bureau, further strides can be taken toward elimination of all rackets."
